Religious Survey Plans

Dean Bender announced recently that a religious survey of the student body and alumni of Goshen College would be conducted during the present school year by a faculty commission appointed by the administration. The commission will be composed of Professor Paul Mininger, chairman; Dean Bender; Dr. Hershberger and Dr. Wenger. It is expected that the work of the survey will be completed by next June. The scope of the survey will include student religious life, student religious organizations and activities, faculty service, the relation of the college to the work of the Mennonite church, the religious objectives of the college and the formation of a philosophy of Christian experience. The survey will be divided into four divisions, each division to be in charge of a sub-committee which will be composed of three to five faculty members. Questionnaires will be used to prepare data on student religious life and activities as well as to ascertain alumni opinion. It is expected that after the fact-finding work of the survey commission is completed an evaluation will be made of the religious program of the college which will lead to recommendations strengthening the program.

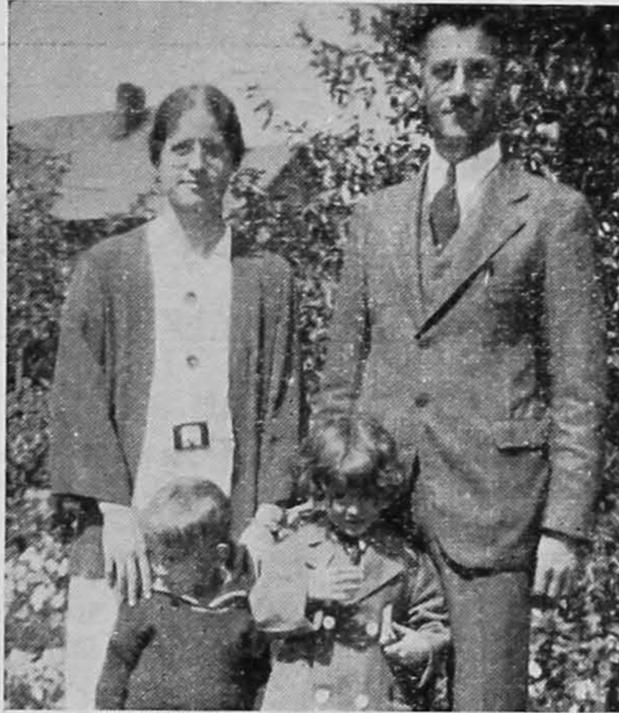

The religious survey is one of the series of self-surveys which is being conducted in the college through special survey commissions. An important educational survey was completed last spring preparatory to further accreditation, and it is expected that one such survey will be conducted each year by the faculty. This is in line with one of the significant trends of modern college education which insists that colleges be alert to their problems and needs and continuously appraising their work with a view to improving their program and devising new and more efficient methods of work.

STUDENT TEACHERS

Twenty-two student teachers are doing practise teaching in the Goshen schools. Three of these are teaching in the high schools. Ralph Greener teaches general science in the junior high school with Fred Bryner as his critic teacher. In the senior high school, Betty Trump teaches United States history under the direction of Melba Smith. At the same place, Isaiah Harley has a class in world history with Frances Stutz as his supervising teacher. The elementary teachers

DO YOU KNOW PAUL ERB?

Not all of us will have the opportunity to get acquainted with Bro. Erb by associating with him; we will have to use what we can find out about his likes and dislikes as a key to his personality.

If you enjoy poetry and good literature, you will have very much in common with Mr. Erb; for he has been teaching English at Hesston College for a good many years, and has consistently been making his courses the most interesting ones that students take there. He enjoys reading poetry, and if you

SPANISH RELIEF WORK

While we sit comfortably in our rooms our minds go to those who are far from home in the interests of the Spanish war sufferers. Lester Hershey and Clarence Fretz spent October 12, in London on their way to Spain and then traveled on to Paris. Levi Hartzler was with them in Paris until October 18, when he returned to Spain while they waited for the trucks that are to be taken into Spain to use in the relief work. The war scare in France brought mobilization and that took away workmen who were to build the truck bodies, and delayed the work. Plans were made to drive the trucks to Marseilles, and if possible, accompany them by ship to Valencia, and then drive them to Murcia and Almeria. The relief workers have already learned that

Missionaries Leave

Saturday, November 12, will mark the day when another alumnus of Goshen College enters into foreign missionary work. The alumnus concerned is Timothy Brenneman. Mr. Brenneman spent three years in Goshen, receiving the B. S. degree in '37 and the Th. B. degree the following year. Mrs. Brenneman took part-time work at the College. Prior to coming to Goshen in '35 to finish his college work, Mr. Brenneman taught nine years in the public schools of Ohio.

His family background is one which contributes much to his interest in Christian service. Both of his grandfathers, Moses Brenneman and J. N. Durr, were ministers, as well as his father, Andrew Brenneman, who is now pastor of the Central congregation in Elida, Ohio.

A number of students attended the farewell service which was held for the Brenneman family, Sunday, October 30, at the Central church in Elida, Ohio. At the afternoon meeting Mrs. Brenneman spoke on "What I Hope to do as a Missionary" and Mr. Brenneman discussed "Blessings of a Yielded Life." Others taking part in the program were Andrew Brenneman, Mrs. E. E. Miller, Dr. John C. Wenger, D. D. Miller, and Nelson Springer, the latter speaking in behalf of the Foreign Volunteer Band of Goshen College. At the evening meeting a consecration and dedication service was held, in charge of D. D. Miller and S. E. Allgyer. An interesting feature of the evening meeting was the singing of several songs by the Brenneman children, Patricia and Donald. Special music was furnished at both services by a quartette composed of Dwight Stoltzfus, Sturges Miller, Robert Kreider and Allen Miller.

QUARTET GOES TO CANADA

October 29, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Graber accompanied by the Goshen College ladies' quartette, set out for Canada. They reached Waterloo, Ontario, early in the evening and visited at the home of Miss Viola Good. Sunday the quartette sang for the dedication services at the Wanner Church, and attended services at the Waterloo Church where Mr. Graber spoke. They started back early Monday morning, stopping at Niagara Falls on their way home. Everyone had a very pleasant time in Canada, and received invitations to come back again.

BULLETIN BOARD

Who would want to invite someone into the kitchen of their home if they had a dish of spoiled fruit sitting on the table? Immediately the guests would decide that they were poor housekeepers and not concerned about being orderly and clean.

One Monday students read a notice on the bulletin board that announced a vesper service for the day before that never came to pass. A number of students signed up to have their pictures taken one Wednesday and for two weeks they observed that same paper hanging up for public inspection. Literary notices for Monday often hang for a half week. Is our bulletin board a garbage can for left-overs? Or is it a mixture of the fresh and the stale making it an art for the busy teacher and student to separate the news from the worthless matter as they quickly glance over what is there?

When a stranger comes into the Administration building what kind of an impression does he get of our school if he judges it by the bulletin board? Teachers and students alike need to co-operate to keep it looking its best. Class recitation notices and assignments as well as the lost and found notices can be taken down, as soon as they have served their purpose, as easily as they can be taken down a week later. Important announcements are often overlooked because they are hidden away by the left-overs from the week before. Let us clean house and set a record for keeping it clean the entire year by keeping our bulletin board free from yesterday's news. —K.

READING ROOM CONDUCT

I am often made to wonder at the absolute quietness that prevails in the reading rooms of public libraries. It is so quiet that you can almost feel it. The very atmosphere seems to shriek "Silence." I have felt guilty when I rattled the pages in my book when reading in such places. I have never had that guilty feeling at Goshen College! There is such a buzz and chatter, such rustling of newspapers and magazines, and continual moving and shifting! One almost feels that some students are playing "Upset the Fruit Basket," by their continual running from place to place. Quiet? A boiler factory is quiet at times, too.

What I am trying to say is that our reading room is a bit noisy at times. Now, I recognize that there are reasons for this, good ones, too. But still I say, that things get a mite boisterous once in a while. I know that the out-of-dorm folk must study somewhere but do they have to pass the time of day there, too? I recognize that the dormitory students find it very convenient to work there at times, but do they need to bring along that bubbling-over spirit of fellowship and fun, too?

I say "Thank you" to all who have kept the rules and have tried to make study easy for those who are working. I am not writing to them, but to the others. Could you think about it and help us improve this one aspect of our campus life? —B.

Religious Activities

NORTH GOSHEN SUNDAY SCHOOL

Dear Christian Friends,
These are epoch making days at North Goshen, we feel. A year ago saw us with no definite membership—quite a scattering of children and some parents, two of whom had made application for membership into the Church; no regular pastor, consequently little feeling of "belonging to." With the admission a few weeks ago of three new members the congregation has now a membership of forty one.

Last Sunday, October 30, marked our first attempt at a young people's meeting. This meeting was somewhat of an experiment, but the enthusiasm with which it was welcomed makes us feel it was a success. The plan is to have these meetings once a month.

Another very important step forward was the establishment of a committee to assume the responsibilities for the up-keep of the building. On this committee are the brethren Roy Chaplan, Angus Myers, and Glenn Prough, all of whom are men from the congregation. Already the men are at work and are planning a working bee at the church this Saturday, November 5, to make class partitions for the primary department.

The last item which I wish to make mention of comes in the form of a prayer request. After some effort the plans for our evangelistic meetings have been completed. The dates set have been November 13-20. Brother William Detwiler from Orrville, Ohio, formerly from the Canton Mission, will serve as evangelist.

These meetings need the prayers of consecrated Christians. Can we count on yours?

Yours sincerely,
John Friesen, Supt.

Christian Workers' Band

Sunday morning, October 23, Reuben Widmer spoke on "The Gospel of Peace." He spoke of the Mennonite stand of nonresistance and set forth a plan by which Mennonite youth could live the true life of nonresistance, which includes not only a negative stand against war but also the positive stand of doing good to all men. Nancy Hernley conducted the devotional, and Mae Orendorff led the singing. Isaiah Harley, president, received twenty-nine new members into the Band at the recommendation of Bro. Mininger.

Esther Detwiler, who has spent some time as a school teacher and a mission helper in the Missouri Ozarks, introduced the Band to Mennonite missionary efforts in that field, Sunday morning, October 30. Alfred Zook led the singing. Samuel Bucher conducted the devotional.

LITERARY CONTRIBUTIONS

THE FRAUD OF BEAUTY

A rippling stream of gold-bronze hair
That sparkled when the sun's rays fell,
Eclipsed the truth that lay beneath,
The vulgar thoughts her lips could tell.
—Ruth A. King.

LEARNING

God gives us minds with which to think
And souls to guide the mind,
With purpose to be put to use
For God and all mankind.
May its powers be utilized;
The forces put to will,
And this in turn towards betterment,
And a world that is tranquil.
We have a freedom to our thoughts,
And may peace our freedom keep,
But freedom keeps our peace at hand,
May neither of them sleep.
—Bob Walter.

are distributed among the various schools as follows: At West Goshen, Elsie Birky works in grades 5 and 6 with J. Galen Whitehead and Edith Troyer in grades 1 and 2 under the supervision of Prudence Leer. In the Chamberlain school, Mary Hartzler teaches in grades 5 and 6 under the supervision of Nellie Batten and Janice Wagner works with the same grades with John Todd as critic teacher. At East Goshen, Eunice A. Schrock teaches grades 1 and 2 under Olga Buerstrom; in the pike Street school Lena Hostetler teaches grades 5 and 6 under the direction of John E. Larimer. To the Chandler school go five practise teachers: Lois P. Yoder, grade 1 with Caroline Stutz; Esther Stiver, grade 2 supervised by Pearl Dunn; Ruth Inbody grade 5 with Mrs. Maude Webb; Pauline Blosser, grade 6 with Gerald Moyer; and Ernest Davis, in charge of the physical education program, also under the supervision of Mr. Moyer. Eight student teachers go daily to Parkside school. Esther Lehman and Shirley Erb teach in grade 1 with Mildred Books; Doris Geiser and Ruth Kent work in grade 3 with Anna Yoder; Phyllis Hartzler and Lois Johns teach in grade 5 under the direction of Glen Hart; and Agnes Litwiller and Marie Brubaker work in grade 6 with Wm. I. Pletcher as critic teacher.

Altogether, these student teachers teach all the common school courses. Reading, writing, arithmetic, language, spelling, general sciences, health, and social sciences are among the subjects taught by these practise teachers. Once a week these students meet as a class, under the supervision of Dr. Hertzler, to discuss their various activities. Practise teaching is work, to be sure; but it is pleasant and interesting work.

THE ALTAR

The fire burned
And consumed the fagot,
And burning, lit the way
To heaven.

I fling my heart
On its altar—fire
Of devotion.
O Father — God,
Send down the flame;
Consume my sin
That I may be
Pure,
Serving Thee.

—Genevieve Warner.

TAKE HEART DEAR FRIEND

Take heart, dear friend!
Not every day 's sad;
Clouds not all hang low;
Not just the harvest we must think of,
But the seeds we sow.

Take courage, friend!
Let not a frown perplex
Nor let disheartening
friends distress,
For God takes count of all,
And He will bless.

Cheer up, sweet friend!
Life is not a dreary task
With only pain and woe;
Lift up your chin!
Stretch forth your arms,
and grow!

—Ruth A. King.

Mr. and Mrs. Brenneman, their two children, Patricia and Donald, together with Mr. and Mrs. Parke Lantz are planning to sail from New Orleans, Saturday, November 12. It is probable that they will be stationed at Pehuajo, at first, to study the Spanish language, later engaging in evangelistic work.

—Miriam Stalter.

Howard Zehr led the Wednesday morning prayer meeting October 26. Isaiah Harley was leader November 2.

Men's Devotional

Isaiah Harley was leader of the meeting on October 27. Mervin Meck had charge of the singing. The Sophomore men's quartette sang two numbers during the meeting. The main topic was, "Five Foolish Men." The purpose for discussing these men was to help us avoid the mistakes that they made.

Robert Schertz spoke about Pharaoh; Harold Mishler, Naaman; David Yoder, Uzziah; Robert La Mar, Hezekiah; and Glen Esh closed the discussion by telling about Haman.

Women's Devotional

At the women's devotional service on October 27 a book review was given of Youth with a Capital Why. The book was divided into three parts and discussed as follows:

The Call—Marie Brubaker.
Practical Christian Living

—Clara Lehman.

Glory in Christ—Alta Schertz.

Anna Lois Bucher led the meeting and Edith King was chorister.

Conjoint Devotional

The devotional for November 3 was conducted by a gospel team from the Ontario Mennonite Bible School, Kitchener, Ontario, Canada.

Arnold Gingerich, Bothwell, Ont., opened the meeting and introduced the speakers. Cyrenus Wideman, St. Jacobs, Ont., led the singing. A ladies trio consisting of Gladys Snyder, Bothwell; Myrtle Feick, Kitchener; and Irene Snyder, Kitchener, gave two numbers in song. The group combined to sing two more numbers for us.

Brother Roy Koch, pastor of the St. Jacobs congregation, St. Jacobs, Ontario, gave us an interesting message on Christian service.

This group of young people are traveling in Michigan, visiting the churches in that state. We appreciate their visit with us and we look forward to the time when they can come again.

Jail Service

On Sunday, October 30, the jail service was in charge of Isaiah Harley. A very informal meeting was held. Isaiah Harley, Edward Fresen, Melvin Glick, Sarah Hertzler, and Annabelle Troyer gave personal testimonies and gave several messages in song. A very good meeting was reported.

AT DEATH

Your way of laughing,
Your twist of smile,
Your serious eyes,
All the little things you said
Come back
To form my grief.

—Helen Wade.

Literary and Social Activities

Auroras

The meeting of October 24 was in the form of a discussion of Aurora aims and accomplishments. Wayne Yeater spoke on "The Meaning of Aurora," Dwight Stoltzfus told about, "What the Auroras Have Done in the Past," Cleland Gunden gave an account of "What the Auroras Have Done in Athletics." Rex Miller favored the society with a cornet solo.

Halloween was the subject for the meeting on October 31. Clarence Hoolcy discussed "The Origin of Halloween," Orval Shoemaker told some of the experiences he has had and some that others have had. Elwood Ziegler gave a discussion of "A Classification of Halloween Jokes." Several members of the society told of some of their own experiences on this day, for the enjoyment of the rest of the society.

CAMPUS GLEANINGS

On Nov. 3 Bro. J. R. Mumaw from the Eastern Mennonite School, Bro. I. W. Royer from Orville, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Metzler and daughter from Scottdale were visiting on the campus with students and faculty.

J. N. Kauffman, President of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, conducted chapel service Monday, October 31.

Fifteen students (5 per cent of the student body) visited in Illinois last week-end and all reported a fine time. Jake Beer, Donald Ebersole, Harold Oyer, Marian Albrecht, Lola Schertz, Lois Mary Schertz, Luella Schrock, Marvin Schertz, Robert Schertz, Margaret Ulrich, and Howard Zehr visited their homes. Philip Yoder, Ruth King, Burnett Martin, and Karl Schiwiek visited friends in Illinois. The visitors were very well impressed with the scenery, people and food!

Arthur King traveled to Bellefontaine, Ohio, to visit with his parents over the week-end of October 29. Waldo Kines, of Canton, Ohio, accompanied him.

Adelphians

During the regular meeting of the Adelphians on Oct. 24, Allen Miller was chosen chief solicitor and Robert La Mar was selected public program chairman. Nominations were also made for the office of attorney. The nominees are Howard Zehr and Wade Jones.

The entire time for the program was given to Wade Jones, a male nurse, who discussed a large number of first aid hints. He also gave demonstrations of an improvised stretcher, Chinese respiration and the fireman's lift. Chinese respiration was especially interesting. By this method the patient is hung with his head down, then his body is gently swung up and down until all the water is forced out of the lungs.

Vesperians

After a short business meeting, the literary hour on October 24 was given over to a Halloween program. Miriam Sieber spoke on the origin of Halloween and how it has changed from its original meaning. Thelma Hostetler read "Booh." After singing the Vesperian song, led by Miriam Stalter, Esther Detweiler told a Halloween story that had its setting at the Children's Home in Kansas City. The meeting adjourned with the singing of the pep song.

Avons

Monday, October 24

The Avons wrote stories, yes, many stories. Each girl had a picture and each girl wrote a story inspired by that picture. There were breath-taking adventures, realistic everyday drama, and love stories. The room seemed to be lighted with literary zeal. Humor found its way into the writings. No one could help but chuckle about someone's description of a poor defenseless man who interrupted a shopping spree or his caustic comments on the latest Paris creations in millinery. The hour passed all too quickly but the "brain children" then produced are still fitting about the campus.

October 31

The Avons had a Halloween party. When they entered, the room was dimly lighted and decorated with orange and black crepe paper. Pumpkin faces, witches and black cats were there to help with the fun. The girls rode the witches' broom and pulled the cat's tail. They played together and finally chose Francis Barnard and Edith King to demonstrate their knowledge of anatomy by constructing a man from five tooth picks, five raisins, one life saver and two marshmallows. Francis showed the greatest skill and earned ten points for her side. The group continued their frolicking until time to go out into the twilight where the witches could not ride.

FRENCH CLUB

The first meeting of the Cercle Francais, for the year, was held in the Social Room of Kulp Hall, on Thursday evening, October 20. Edith King, the new president of the club, presided over the meeting. The evening's program was in charge of the newly organized publicity committee, which is responsible for the induction of new members. Nine names were submitted for membership and after due examination of qualifications these candidates were accepted as members. A short period of games was followed by refreshments. With the singing of "La Marseillaise," the meeting was adjourned.

Paul Mininger spent Thursday and Friday, November 3 and 4, in Chicago in behalf of the Religious Life Committee of the college. Dr. M. C. Lehman joined him in the work on Friday. Bro. Mininger is conducting a series of meetings at the Forks congregation east of Goshen. The meetings started Friday evening, November 4. Due to Bro. Mininger's absence on Friday, C. L. Graber had charge of the first meeting.

Guy F. Hershberger spent November 4 and 5, attending the Symposium on Political and Social Philosophy at Notre Dame University.

Glen Miller, Harold Hartzler, and Paul Bender attended the Academy of Science meeting at Purdue University on Friday, November 4.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Bender spent Friday and Saturday, November 4 and 5, in Chicago. Dean Bender was attending to business for the college. While in the city he and Miss Stella Kauffman visited several new libraries looking for ideas to be incorporated into the new Goshen College Library.

John Duerksen visited with friends in Lowpoint and Morton, Illinois over the week-end of October 29.

The faculty has appointed Dr. Guy F. Hershberger as the faculty adviser for the College Record. Due to work that has accumulated during his illness, Dean Bender has asked to be relieved of this duty.

Since he likes literature, he likes music, too. He has been directing the choruses at Hesston for a good many years, and, in spite of his many other duties, has found time to make many successful tours with them. He especially enjoys religious music.

And Nature? Well, he wouldn't miss a bird-hike unless he absolutely had to.

His work as Dean of Hesston College has brought him very close to a large number of young people. He is able to sympathize and understand and to offer sound advice where many who have had less to do with young people are helpless. And congenial? You will find him both fun-loving and deeply spiritual in all his dealings with people. Talk to him some time, and find out for yourself what he is like.

In the first game of the week the Freshmen I outsmarted and outplayed a larger Junior-Senior team to win 12 to 6. The passing attack of the winners began to click early in the game and they were never headed. The Sophomore II lost a ragged game to the Freshmen I. Both teams received several penalties but a much better knowledge of the rules was displayed than in the initial contest. One touchdown by the score to 6-0 as the game ended. The Freshmen II forfeited their game to the Sophomore I.

Work is progressing rapidly on the gym floor and should be completed at least two weeks before Thanksgiving. If present plans can be carried out the floor will be done by Tuesday evening, October 8. This will give the boys several practise periods before the Homecoming game.

Herbert Troyer defeated Wayne Yeater in the finals of the horseshoe tournament. The final game ended 21-20 in favor of Troyer, giving him two games out of three. There was some very good pitching by both boys, all the games were close and hotly contested.

The tennis tournament has progressed to the semi-final round. Be on the lookout for the announcement of the final match.
