MINISTERS' WEEK

On February 8, 9, and 10, Goshen College will have on her campus a group of visiting ministers. The ministers, most of whom will be from the Indiana-Michigan Conference district, will be here to enjoy Ministers' Week. The purpose of this annual affair is to aid the pastors to a better understanding of their work by listening to helpful addresses by able leaders and through the discussion of problems. During the week previous, from January 30 to February 7, the Short Bible Term teachers are sponsoring a Minister's Study Course for the benefit of the local ministers. The following is the program for February 8, 9 and 10.

NOT "ADIEU" BUT "AU REVOIR"

"It isn't far from" Goshen—only to Ohio, where many of our friends live and work, that I am going, so let us not say "Adieu" but rather "Au Revoir."

And my "Au Revoir" to you would remind you of your happy lot in life. You are numbered among the finest people in the world. Why? Because you have chosen to prepare yourselves in the best way you can to do your life work. Each day you try to improve your habits of living. You aim to be thoughtful, polite, and kind to all people, even to those whom you think you don't like. You prefer others to yourselves. You are not ashamed to help the lowliest. You radiate a spirit of goodwill. Best of all you live to please your Creator and your Savior.

What then will be your reward? Happiness. In times of sorrow you will have friends to comfort and cheer; in times of rejoicing you will have dear ones to share your joys.

Let us then be kind and good,
To all mankind giving love or food;
Avoiding evil and wrong,
Filling hearts with joy and song;
For they are calling you and me—
Calling from land and sea—
So let us away our bit to do—
Then "Au revoir"
But not "Adieu."

—Lydia Shenk.

MISS WYSE TO ATTEND COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY

Miss Olive Wyse, head of the Home Economics department, will attend Teachers College, Columbia University, the second semester. She plans to do graduate work in nutrition, clothing and related fields. Miss Wyse will leave for her work on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 5. Her address while at school will be 353 Whittier Hall, Teachers College, Columbia University.

WESTMINSTER CHOIR

Famous Organization To Be Here February 17

The famous Westminster Choir will appear at the Goshen High School on the evening of February 17 at eight o'clock under the auspices of the College Choruses. This well-known choral organization, which is essentially an American institution, has been acclaimed both here and abroad as the world's foremost choral ensemble.

The choir found its fame a useful weapon in taming the truculent European customs during its last tour. The innumerable bits of baggage which the 40 singers would naturally have along slid through the barriers like water through a pine. And when you consider that the Choir crossed eleven frontiers in 49 days, this was quite a feat. The Choir, it seems, had created such a furor that its fame went before it and opened all doors. At the German frontier, a terror for most travelers, the Choir passed on almost on its own recognition. A special courier met the Choir at the Russian border and conducted it to Leningrad.

You are advised to purchase your tickets early so that you will be sure of a seat the evening of the program. The price is 50 cents for all persons who buy tickets before the night of the concert. The price at the door the night of the concert will be 75 cents. Tickets may be secured from any member of the College Choruses or by mail from Maurice Burkholder, Goshen College.

BIBLE STUDY WEEK

During the week of January 30 to February 3 the annual Bible Study program sponsored by the Y. P. C. A. will be carried out. Each day during chapel a Bible lecture will be given on some passage of Scripture by professors in the Bible department and the Winter Bible School.

The schedule is as follows:

Monday, Paul Mininger, 1 Cor. 1:17-31

Tuesday, H. S. Bender, I Cor. 3

Wednesday, J. C. Wenger, I Cor. 13

Thursday, O. N. Johns, I Cor. 15:1-20

Friday, I. E. Burkhart, Psalms 32

The Bible department and the Y. P. C. A. committees have a three-fold purpose in mind for the Bible study week. First, they hope to help the student to find a good method for Bible study when he must do it for himself. Second, they want the students to get a new appreciation of the Word of God. Last, they hope to give each of the listeners a new thought on the portions of Scripture that are to be discussed.

BRICKS

Looking out of my window I see the bricks along the window's edge. They are just plain red bricks. One on top of the other and each one alike. As long as Kulp Hall stands these bricks will probably remain by the window.

You and I are just another student on the campus of life and as long as we have breath we will be just another person. There are a lot of bricks and there are a lot of people. Some bricks are not much account because they have their corners knocked off or they are cracked, but those bricks that are in the wall of Kulp Hall are very important. Every one is needed in the place where it is.

Some of them are covered the year around with the ivy vine. No one sees them, but they are just as important as the bricks beside my window that I see every day. One person's activities may take him to some obscure place where he is little noticed. There he may work and serve for a life time. Another person may labor at the cross road where the passing generation notices. Both persons are needed. Both will give an account some day as to whether they have served in some building enterprise or whether they have been lying around with their corners knocked off.

—K.

A NEW INSTITUTION

The other day Mr. Graber handed me a letter. It was a peculiar thing addressed in pencil to the "Treasurer of Goshen College" by someone who disguised his handwriting by printing like a small child. Inside the envelope was a sheet of paper with "Conscience Fund—one dollar," written in the same style. Mr. Graber says that that person must have taken a dollar from the cash register or from the cash drawer in the open safe during the time when the office was temporarily vacant. The thought of the theft must have gotten on this person's nerves and this was his way to get rid of the burden.

This is not the first time that such letters have been received. The business office receives them every once in a while. Some of the professors report that they have received letters from former students who confessed they were not entitled to the grade received in a certain course because they cheated or in some other way did not do the work accredited to them.

These letters reveal that a guilty conscience is a hard task-master, driving us to strange things. People will do a lot to get away from the prodding of an aroused conscience. The writer of this letter was trying to get to the place where he could look every man in the eye squarely and honestly.

Goshen College certainly should not need to have a "Conscience Fund." Such a thing just does not fit in with the ideals of the school. It may be well that these people get a change of heart and try to make their wrongs right again but it would be better if there were never any wrongs. I hope that none of our readers will ever need to contribute to the fund.

—B.

Religious Activities

Jail Service

We appreciate the assistance of the Short Bible Term Students in our extension work of the College. Bro. Paul Wittrig, who is pastor of a church near Imlay City, Michigan, spoke at the Jail on January 15. Jake Beer, Lloyd Fisher, Thelma Huston, and Wilma Smith gave three numbers in song.

On January 22, the Freshman-Sophomore men's quartette sang four numbers at the jail and S. Paul Miller gave an evangelistic message. A very good meeting was reported.

Christian Workers' Band

The Band was fortunate to have a minister from the rural field address them Sunday morning, January 15. Paul Wittrig told of his call from a position of assistant cashier in an Elkhart bank to that of a minister of the Gospel in the Imlay City community, Michigan. Phyllis Hartzler was chorister of the meeting. Samuel Bucher conducted the devotional. Nancy Hernley led the weekly prayer meeting, Wednesday morning, January 18.

Glenn Esh discussed the American Negro as a social group in need of the Gospel, Sunday morning, January 22. Lloyd Fisher led the singing, and Nelson Springer conducted the devotional. Isaiah Harley led the midweek prayer meeting, January 25.

Devotional

The men's devotional for January 19 was on the topic "Life's Choices." Dwight Stoltzfus was in charge of the meeting. Harvey Mumaw was the chorister. The meeting was in the form of an open discussion with Howard Blosser as the leader for this part. He gave a short talk about some of the choices we must make and then led an interesting discussion on the subject. The discussion was very lively and many took part helping to bring out several good lines of thought.

DEBATE

Goshen College varsity debaters are making preparations for the first scheduled inter-collegiate debate which is to be held with Marion College sometime during the week of February 5-12. The Marion College affirmative team will make its appearance at the College opposing the Goshen College negative team. The Goshen affirmative team will travel to Marion where it will oppose the Marion College negative team.

The question to be debated is "Resolved: that the United States should cease using federal funds (including credit) for the purpose of stimulating business." Isaiah Harley and Clifford Yoder will debate the affirmative while Charles Ainlay and Robert Kreider will uphold the negative, according to Professor J. Umble, debate coach.

BISHOP O. N. JOHNS

Otis N. Johns was born on a farm near Goshen, Indiana, June 1, 1889. By birth he is a Hoosier, but in life a Buckeye. He lives on a small farm near Louisville, Ohio. He is not farming extensively, but has for a number of years been truly a worker in the vineyard of the Lord. He was ordained to the ministry on April 8, 1923, at the Canton Mission, Canton, Ohio. On July 19, 1925, he was ordained bishop at the Beach Mennonite Church, Louisville, Ohio, and is now bishop of the following churches: Martins Creek, Walnut Creek, Kolb, Martins, Bethel (Medina Co.), and Canton.

His life as a Bible school teacher started at the Canton Mission in 1925. A number of terms of teaching were devoted to the Johnstown Winter Bible school and last year again at Canton. Now he is a member of the faculty of the Goshen College Winter Bible School. He has been secretary of the Mennonite Publication Board since 1925 and since 1926 secretary of the Ohio Mennonite Church Conference.

He was both instigator and director of the first Young Peoples Institute held under the Ohio Mennonite Conference in 1934. Since then he has served as secretary of the Young Peoples Institute Committee. —Cora Hofstetter.

GENERAL NATURE OF THE COURSE OF STUDY

The courses offered the Winter Bible School student are listed under the general headings:

Bible Introduction and History
English Bible and Book Study
Bible Doctrine
Church History and Missions
Practical Work
Music

Bible Introduction and History include a general survey of the entire Bible, acquainting one with the outstanding facts in each book.

The English Bible and Book Study is a more thorough study, taking up the individual books and enlarging upon them.

Bible Doctrine deals with man and the Trinity. It also includes a course in Principles of the Mennonite Church.

Practical work is of utmost interest to the worker such as the Sunday school superintendent and teacher or Bible school teacher.

A very practical course in Music is given. Elements of music, hymns and hymn interpretation, and voice training are all offered the Winter Bible school student.

These courses better acquaint us with the Bible as well as other essentials for the Christian worker.

—Barbara Troyer.

WHY I CAME TO WINTER BIBLE SCHOOL

The Winter Bible School is an institution which fills a need ordinarily neglected. In our public schools today much emphasis is placed upon the physical and intellectual sides of life. This is shown in the stress upon health and exercise, especially in the realm of sports. There can be no doubt, when viewing the rapid growth of schools, that the intellectual phase has not been neglected. However, on the whole, the spiritual life of the masses has been waning. I am glad to have this opportunity for enriching my Christian experience. I heartily thank Goshen College for its spiritual outlook upon life.

—Wilma Hess.

BENEFITS I HAVE RECEIVED

The Winter Bible School has been to me both beneficial and enjoyable. During my stay at Goshen College, I feel I have been drawn closer to my Master. To study God's Word under the Christian influence of our instructors has been inspiring to me and has given me the desire and aim to live a life that is more Christ-like. I have gained more knowledge of the Bible, therefore I feel richer than before.

It has been said we become a part of those we meet. I appreciate having had the opportunity of making new Christian acquaintances not only among the short term group, but also of the college students.

—Edna Sutter.

I. W. ROYER

One of the instructors of the Winter Bible Term is I. W. Royer, the father of Mary Royer, teacher at the College. He is at present pastor of the Mennonite Church at Orrville, Ohio. He has been a teacher at Short Term for twenty years. While at Goshen, he has his room at Professor Umble's.

Following are the subjects he is teaching and a brief statement concerning the subject matter of each course. In Romans, a book study, the class is studying the doctrines of sin, justification and sanctification with the practical application to Christian living. New Testament Survey includes a general outline of the New Testament and a brief summary of each book.

Sunday School Administration treats the history of the Sunday School and the organization for local congregations including administration, organization and evangelization. In the Missions class, the aim is to get more fully acquainted with the mission interests of the church, the administrative work, the field, the workers and the work. During several class periods the class has listened to talks given by persons who have been on certain mission fields. I and II Peter is a book study, studying the Christian under trial and the ability to meet false teachings. Mark is a book study, treating the life of Christ as a servant.

Bro. Royer has also been connected with the Canton Bible School, having been principal there for six years. Some of the other activities he is engaged in are secretary of Ohio Sunday School Conference, and also Sunday School secretary of the Commission for Christian Education and Young Peoples Work.

—Phyllis Aschliman.

EXPERIENCES AT GOSHEN

Sincerity, devotion, helpfulness, unselfishness, and above all spirituality—these are the qualities possessed by the students and faculty members here at Goshen College. In the few weeks I have been here I have become accustomed to my surroundings and feel as if I were a regular student.

Finding myself in a practically strange community when I arrived from home, I wondered what I would do among the mass of students. After registering for my classes, the first several days I stumbled into wrong classrooms and met fellow students who were in as much a predicament as I. But soon the cloud of loneliness lifted and I found friends—good, helpful friends. Regular students took an interest in me instead of regarding me as just another "short-termers."

Now the days have flown by and it will soon be time for our leaving. I am sure the other "short-termers" will join me to say that we have enjoyed our stay here and have received spiritual blessings.

—Twila Swartzendruber.

Literaries

Adelphians

Results of the election of officers for the second semester are:

President, Lawrence Burkholder; V. President, Samuel Bucher; Secretary, Wade Jones; Treasurer, Allen Miller; Critic, Grant Stoltzfus; Attorney, Ernest Smucker; Chief Solicitor, Paul Troyer; Public Chairman, Isaiah Harley; Ushers, Harold Oyer and Glen Esh.

Auroras

Aurora officers for the second semester are:

President, Elwood Ziegler; V. President, Vernon Schmidt; Secretary, Sturges Miller; Treasurer, Roman Gingrich; Critic, Wayne Yeater; Attorney, Reuben Widmer; Chief Solicitor, Charles Ainlay; Ushers, Phil Yoder, Mervin Meck.

January 16 the Auroras met for a short business session to elect the officers for the second semester and then engaged the Adelphians in a spelling match in the Adelphian Hall. The presidents of the two societies acted as chairmen of the match and gave out the words. The match was enjoyed by the members of the societies present. The Adelphians had a few more men standing at the time for dismissal but the Auroras are waiting for the next encounter.

Avons

President, Bessie Benell; V. President, Helen Wade; Secretary, Marion Jones; Treasurer, Margaret Ullrich; Critic, Elizabeth Plank; Attorney, Myra Roeschley; Ushers, Doris Beller, Mary

Beth Everson and Beulah Smith are the officers of the Avon Literary Society for the second semester.

Vesperians

The election of officers for next semester took place at the beginning of the meeting for January 16. The program was given by the Sophomore class and was based on the life and works of Stephen C. Foster. The previous week was the 75th anniversary of his death. First was a monologue by Verda Hersberger, "The American Troubadour." Emma and Pauline Blosser sang a vocal duet, "Thou and Me." Thelma Huston played on the banjo and sang "Old Black Joe." "My Wife is a Most Knowing Woman," a musical reading, was read by Miriam Stalter, and Phyllis Hartzler sang a vocal solo, "Beautiful Dreamer." The closing numbers were sung by an Octette—"Jeanie With the Light Brown Hair," and "De Camptown Races." The results of the election are as follows:

President, Eleanor Reist; V. President, Esther Detweiler; Secretary, Verda Hersberger; Treasurer, Miriam Stalter; Critic, Eunice Weaver; Attorney, Betty Kate Lee; Ushers, Phyllis Yoder, Lois Erb, Mary Ellen Oesch and Kathryn Rutt.

THE BOOK SHELF

Did you notice the library staff's leniency to the din of the reading room during those nerve racking days of examination week? Our placidness was due in some degree to our preoccupation in cataloguing rows of new books. We hope you were attracted by some of the shiny book jackets on the bulletin board and that you are busily delving into one of them by this time.

Besides a few of the outstanding novels of the year, you may find among these new books some on just the subject you are most interested in—what to buy when you shop, vocations, child guidance, etching, music, teacher's problems, housing, religion in the modern world, poetry and what have you. Here are a few notes on some of them:

Hand, H. C., ed. "Campus Activities." McGraw-Hill, 1938.

This book is dedicated to "all student leaders and faculty advisers who would make the campus a laboratory of democracy." It was prepared by a seminar in student leadership at Stanford University. It touches such phases of campus life as the social life of the students, student-faculty relationships, self help, clubs and societies, college publications, forensics music, and religious life.

Rawlings Marjorie. "The Yearling." Scribner, 1938.

This novel covers one year of conflict in the lives of the Baxters, living in the Florida hammock country. Jody, a sensitive, lonely child, adopts an orphan fawn. The story centers about the child and his love for the "yearling" pet.

Vercel, Roger. "Tides of Mont St. Michel," tr. from the French by H. B. Wells. Random house, 1938.

A cultivated Frenchman and his pampered wife are forced by the economic depression to come to the ancient Abbey of Mont St. Michel, where Andre becomes a guide in the medieval fortress and cathedral. Although Andre learns to love the beauty of the ancient place, Laura can not reconcile herself to life there. In its unfolding, drama is interwoven with description, social and moral conflict with adventure.

If you like music, or want to know more about it, the following books will interest you:

Jeans, Sir James. "Science and Music." Macmillan, 1938.

A well-known scientist writes interestingly of the physics of music in non-technical language.

Krehbiel, H. E. "Book of Operas." Macmillan.

This is one of the better opera books, describing the favorite operas, giving their plots, and something of the great singers who have sung in them.

Reis, Clare. "Composers in America." Macmillan, 1938.

Biographical sketches of the great composers with a record of their works, 1912-1937.

Taylor, Deems. "Of Men and Music." Simon and Schuster, 1938.

Here a number of essays and radio talks of the well-known music critic are brought together in one charming book of chatty comments, that will be especially delightful to those who enjoy the author's interesting talks on the New York Philharmonic programs on Sunday afternoons.

Faculty News

Dr. M. C. Lehman is teaching a course on the Work of the Young People in the Church at the Methodist Church here in Goshen. The course is under the auspices of the International Committee for Christian Education and will continue each Monday evening for six weeks. Classes are being held in the Wesleyan Chapel.

On the evening of January 17 Dr. Lehman addressed the Child Study department of the Women's Clubs of Goshen. On January 26 he addressed the Parent-Teachers Association of the Hawthorne school in Elkhart.

Dr. J. C. Wenger spoke to the high school group of the College congregation on Sunday, January 22. On Sunday evening, January 29, he had charge of the evening services at the Prairie Street Church in Elkhart.

Dean Bender spent the week-end of January 22 in Iowa where he conferred with the State Superintendent of Public Schools on Saturday. He spoke at the Sugar Creek Mennonite Church near Wayland, Iowa, on Saturday evening and Sunday morning, January 21 and 22.

On Tuesday evening, January 24, Dean Bender spoke at a meeting of the Laymen's Fellowship of the Presbyterian Church in Goshen. His subject was "South America in Transition."

The quarterly meeting of the local board of Goshen College was held the afternoon of Tuesday, January 24. Members present were Edwin Yoder, chairman, Topeka; C. L. Graber; David A. Yoder, Wakarusa; B. J. Schertz, Goshen; H. S. Bender, Sylvanus Yoder, Middlebury; C. P. Martin, Elkhart, and Amos Hostetler, Topeka.

The auditing committee composed of Monroe Wyse, chairman, Midland, Michigan; Clifford Fisher, Chicago; and E. E. Martin, Elkhart, audited the College accounts on January 27 and 28.

AN INTERESTED STUDENT

This year I am especially impressed by the Bible Doctrine courses. They are a study of God, Christ and the Holy Spirit; Man, Sin and Salvation, and Mennonite Principles. They are not presented as Man's interpretation but as Bible doctrine. Each point of the outline is discussed in the light of the scripture it represents. The exposition of these subjects by our instructors, backed by their experiences and personalities, presents each doctrine with a new and fuller meaning for us.

Each class member, represents a different home congregation. This provides material for excellent discussion and exchange of ideas. We enjoy studying the Bible.

ATHLETICS

MEN'S ATHLETICS

With the scheduled games more than half over, the basketball championship is a toss-up between the Frosh A and the Jr.-Sr teams. Friday the Frosh A put up a stiff defense to subdue the Jr.-Sr team 17 to 14 for the first time this year. Previously, the Frosh A team had suffered their two defeats at the hands of the Jr.-Sr aggregation. The Freshman offense was sparked by the shooting of G. Miller from out on the floor. The Sophs defeated the luckless Frosh B team 42 to 18 as S. Miller took the lead in the Soph scoring spree.

On Wednesday evening the Sophs weakened in the third quarter to allow the Jr.-Sr team to win again by the close score of 31 to 29. The Freshman A team defeated the B's again 36-21. Jake Beer was the leading scorer for the evening. The Jr.-Sr — Sophomore game was marked by some excellent playing on the part of both teams. Time and again each team would retaliate after an opponent's basket to score on a fast-breaking offense. The new ball that was put into play that evening was responsible for speeding up the passing attack making this possibly the best game of the year.

Famous Sayings

The Seniors visited Miss Shenk the other evening to present their regards and to view the wedding gifts. While they were there Miss Shenk brought out her wedding dress and her going-away costume. While looking at them Miss Good made the remark "Well, I see you have made some progress lately."

Miss Shenk replied, "Well, it's about time, isn't it?"
